The European Green Week is an annual event organized by the European Commission to highlight and discuss environmental issues and promote sustainable initiatives.

In Green Week-IPV 2024 - Decarbonization and Sustainability, these two fundamental components will be addressed, reflecting the European Union's commitment to mitigating climate change and promoting good environmental practices.

In Green Week-IPV 2024, it will take place the 4th Workshop - Towards Zero Pollution, with the responsibility of the Environment Department with the collaboration of the Electrotechnical Engineering Department, of the School of Technology and Management of the Polytechnic University of Viseu (ESTGV-IPV) and the IAPMEI (Agency for Competitiveness and Innovation). The event will share innovative technologies and solutions that contribute to both decarbonization and sustainability.
